Hi Huma,

It was nice seeing you yesterday. I had a chance to speak with [] a bit earlier. Congratulations again!

B6

I met with Tauscher and her chief of staff, Simon, yesterday. The meetings went fine and they said they may be able to throw me in the mix if 1 of their 25 people don't accept. They have send their list to Cheryl and are waiting on her. Obviously, I have no idea how any of this works. Jay Dunn and Patrick have told me that they will have their list and Hillary will have hers and at the end of the day, as long as they don't have an opposition to any of Hillary's people, they should get in.

In addition to my previous experiences listed in my resume, I have been meeting with professors from Northwestern, University of Chicago, and Yale for the past 6 months. I know I will be able to hold my own and be a valued contributor to this board. I promise I will make the Secretary look good.

Laura Pena had had my information for about six months and if there is anyway I can be a part of the final list of 25, I would be grateful. Please let me know if there is anything you need me to do.

Thanks for all of your help,

Raj

Hi Huma,

Congressman Mike Quigley, who has Rahm's old seat, came to my office the other day. He said he rode on Airforce One and noted that onboard in the conference room there was a phone with speed dials 1-5. Number 2-5 were in code and number one said Hillary Clinton. Pretty cool.

Please send my best wishes to Hillary on a speedy recovery.

I hope you are doing well,

Raj

Hi Huma,

I met with Laura Pena several weeks ago but I haven't heard anything since. Patrick Hallahan said he would look into it.

I will be in D.C. this weekend for the Virginia Governor's primary so I can meet with anybody.

Thanks for your help and I hope you are doing well.

Hi Huma,

I hope you are doing well. I'm sure you're been busy with the new job.

I was actually at the State Department on Monday meeting with Laura Pena regarding an advisory board. The meeting went well and she suggested that I copy you in on everything.

In a nutshell, I would like to get on the International Security Advisory Board. Everybody on that board is a top level defense expert, yet, I feel like I can add a lot to the group. I have two professors from Northwestern and one from University of Chicago who are international security experts and are getting me up to speed on the academics behind the field.

I wrote a letter several months ago that I have attached that explains the reasons I believe I can be a valuable member of the board. In addition, the ISAB Charter states, "The ISAB shall reflect a balance of background, points of view, and demographic diversity."

Please let me know if there is anything you need from me.

I hope to see you soon,

Raj
